Sources for Husband:

Jeremiah was born in 1812. He is found with his father in census of Habersham from 1820, 1830. He must have married after 1830 as I find him again in 1850 in Habersham the father of five children. The oldest 7 years. I could not find him in 1860.

I looked for this record for many years, but was unable to find it until Will Cleveland (son of William R. and grandson of Jeremiah) related this story to me:

"My grandmother (Celia Cleveland) is buried at the foot of Stomp Hill Mountain in South Carolina, near Walhalla, S.C. My grandfather (Jeremiah) had carried his family from Habersham County, Ga. to work on a tunnel being built through this mountain (Stomp House Mountain) for a railroad to go from Anderson, S. C. to Knoxville, Tenn. My grandfather, father and others worked there. This tunnel was never finished as the Civil War broke out and my grandfather (Jeremiah), father (William R.) and uncle (John) joined the army."

Jeremiah (father) Cleveland, William (son) R. and John (son) Cleveland joined Co. K; 24th Reg. CSA Habersham, Ga. on August 24, 1861. Jeremiah Cleveland and Wm. R. Cleveland were given medical discharges from the army. William R., a private (age 19), was discharged January 7, 1862 at Washington, N. C. He had had measles and diarrhea since entering the service. When he recovered he must have rejoined his troop as he was captured at Coal Harbor, June 1, 1864, transferred to Elmira, N. Y. July 12, 1864, received July 17, 1864 from Point Lookout, Md. and was released July 7, 1865 from Elmira, N.Y. after signing the Oath of Allegiance to the U.S. It gives Chattanooga, Tenn. as place of residence?

Corporal Jeremiah Cleveland (Wm. R's father) of the same company was discharged near Richmond, Va. July 25, 1862. His disability resulting from diarrhea. He gave his age as 47 years old. I found no record that Jeremiah rejoined his company. He gave his place of residence as Clarkesville, Ga.

John, the second son of the same company, was appointed 4th Corporal in 1863. Wounded at Wilderness, Va. May 6, 1864. Admitted to Jackson Hospital at Richmond, Va. wounded in both thighs. Returned to duty October 27, 1864. He never completely recovered from his wounds, but lived until 2-6-1903. He died in Habersham County, Ga.

I asked my uncle (Will) about his grandfather's death. He told me the following story:

> "After the war he (grandfather) was visiting his sons who were working on Still House Trestle (Toccoa, Ga.) Southern Railway (I think). After visiting with them, they retired for the night. The following morning they found he had died during the night."

He must be buried around Toccoa. Ga.

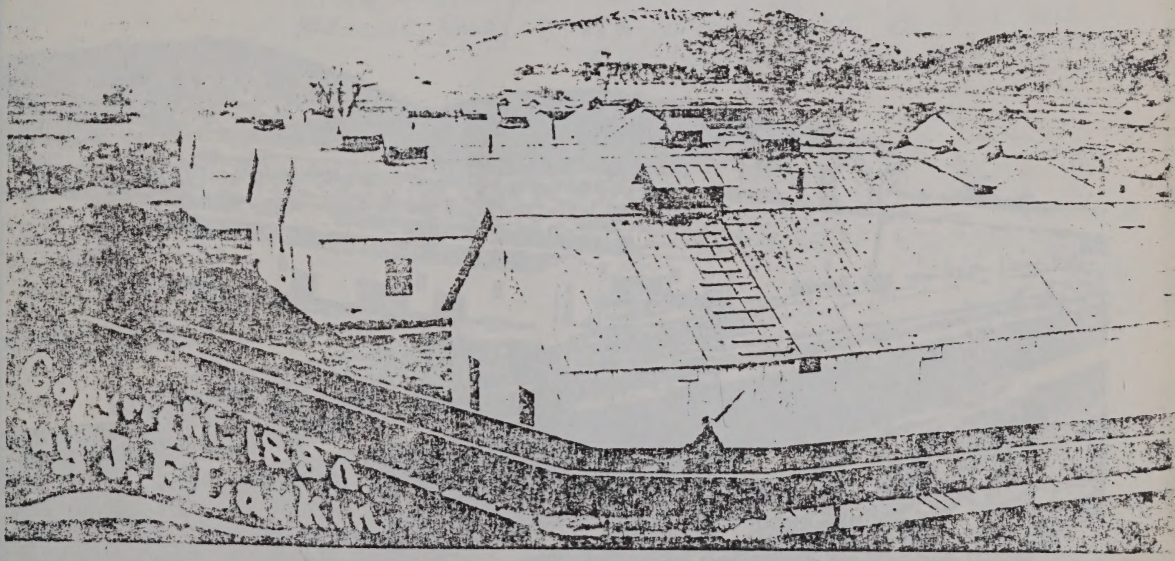
THE ELMIRA

"Admission 15¢, Refreshments Served Below."



The experience of a prisoner of war in a Northern or Southern prison camp was, at best, degrading and debilitating. Even in the best-run, humane prison camps, prisoners were subjected to treatment which chipped away at the physical and mental well-being of even the strongest men. Military records of both the North and the South are filled with tales of men who were treated like herds of cattle, fed with sparse or poorly-prepared rations and housed in unhealthy quarters. The prisoners who were confined in the prison camp at Elmira, New York, however, underwent an additional and unique indignity.

During the latter days of July 1864, most of the 4,500 prisoners' attention was drawn to the construction of a large wooden structure on the outside of the fence directly across from the prison camp. With a growing curiosity, the men speculated on the purpose of the tower. Day by day, the prisoners watched as the structure, which consisted of two large platforms, one above the other, neared completion.

Finally, curiosity and concern were satisfied when the structure was completed and a sign placed at the entrance advertising "an observation tower from which to view the prisoners—admission 15¢, refreshments served below." Since townspeople were strictly forbidden to enter the prison, the tower afforded them a perfect opportunity to see the prisoners.

Many of the prisoners reacted with amusement to the zoo-like situation. A sergeant in the 3d Alabama wrote that some prisoners frequently assembled near the observatory and engaged in numerous ridiculous feats of acrobatics and ground tumbling, "ostensibly for the amusement of the spectators, but really in derision of being regarded as curiosities." Other prisoners were not as lighthearted, however, and reacted with chagrin to the situation. One of the prisoners stated sarcastically, "I am surprised that Barnum has not taken the prisoners off the hands of Abe . . . carried them in caravans through the country . . . turning an honest penny by the show."

And if one observation tower wasn't enough, another one soon appeared. The original tower was so profitable that a rival tower, taller by twenty feet, soon sprang up with a lower admission price of ten cents. On August 30, 1864, a regular advertisement appeared in the Elmira Daily Advertiser extolling the new observatory, three stories high, constructed by W. and W. Mears "at great expense." It was observed that, in a very short time, both towers were doing a rushing business.

Although one might assume that prison officials frowned on such outlandish commercialization of the camp, in fact, the opposite was true. A Confederate prisoner, A.M. Keiley, later wrote, "The event [building the observatory] justified the wisdom of the venture, for one of the proprietors, who was part of the management of our pen, assured me that the concern paid for itself in two weeks."

The customers usually demanded refreshments as well, and before long, booths and stands lined the streets and the spectators were able to munch ginger cakes and assorted breads while viewing the prisoners. For the thirsty observers, stands sold spruce beer or lemon pop. Indeed, a carnival atmosphere prevailed. Rows of wooden stands were built at night and were doing business the very next day. During the summer afternoons, crowds gathered to gape at the prisoners and patronize the merchants. A prisoner wryly observed, "the shinplasters rolled in and the lemon pop and ginger cakes rolled out of the observatory . . . patriotism is spelled 'paytriotism' up here."

For their climbing efforts (and admission fees), spectators were treated to a variety of sights. From the top of the observatory, customers could see the entire compound. The buildings of the camp consisted of thirty-five 2-story barracks, measuring 100 by 20 feet. Behind the rows of barracks was a group of buildings converted into a dispensary, an adjutant's office, and guard rooms. To the rear, extending to the northern bank of Foster's Pond (a soon-to-be contaminated pond in the midst of camp) were the cookhouses and mess halls.

To some observers, the interior of the camp looked like "an immense bee hive." Men were seen walking about while others gathered in small groups. Some men were building small fires and were baking corn meal cakes; others were seated in the shade whittling or fashioning a handicraft. Small knots of prisoners could be seen playing cards, checkers, chess, or dominoes. Still others preferred to talk in small groups and, on occasion, some would gesticulate in an animated fashion to make a point in discussion.

A favorite pastime of the prisoners was craftmaking. Trinkets were made of bone, horn, gutta-percha, horsehair, and wood. The trinkets took the form of most every conceivable thing—buttons, combs, fans, rings, watch-chains, and toothpicks. The work was generally well done and the prisoners did a lively business with the camp sutler. On several occasions, camp guards sold the goods to townspeople and returned the money to the prisoners.

Not all of the sights were pleasant, however. Twice a day, men were marched to the mess hall for meals. Since mess hall facilities were too small to accommodate all of the men at once, there was much confusion and scrambling for position in line. At this time, lines of pathetic, bone-thin men with long, unkept hair were seen clutching canteens, tin cans and coffee pots while anxiously awaiting the day's meager meal. Occasionally, weaker prisoners fell in the scramble and hungry men were obliged to let them lie on the ground rather than miss their meal.

Though the prisoners may have appeared as a motley menagerie to the well-fed observers, they did enjoy a laugh on the people on one occasion. Although no prisoners could have visitors, Federal officers sometimes brought female visitors into the camp to view the captives. In one instance, a young lady raised her skirts as she walked through a ward and proclaimed in revulsion, "Oh, those nasty, dirty, ignorant, beastly Rebels!" As she passed one lice-infested prisoner, he casually flicked a couple of "graybacks" on her. For hours thereafter, the men gleefully imagined the subsequent gyrations of the unsuspecting woman in the company of her dignified escorts.

Ken Cleveland, left, Plant Manager of Scoville Mfg. Co. presented a $1,000.00 check last week to the North East Ga. Council of Boy Scouts of America. They have given this donation for the past several years. The money goes to support Boy Scout and Scouting programs in the Piedmont District. It also helps to give boys in the area an opportunity to be in scouting. Scovill Mfg. will receive a gold plated plaque recognizing their donation. Shown above Rick Martin, center, Community Chairman of Sustaining Membership Enrollment Campaign who accepted the check while David Smith, Piedmont District Scout Executive, looks on.

RALPH WILBURN CLEVELAND—After spending twenty years in the cotton business, Ralph Wilburn Cleveland entered the poultry and wholesale feed business in Gainesville, Georgia, in 1949. Since that time he has become one of the state's leaders in that field, supplying feeds to millions of broilers, as president and general manager of the Gainesville Milling Corporation, one of the largest independent feed companies in the South. He also owns other operations such as hatcheries, dressing plants, feed stores, and large farm holdings. Mr. Cleveland is an official and director of a number of well known organizations, a director of the Gainesville National Bank, and past president of the Georgia Feed Manufacturer's Association.

Gainesville, Georgia, was his birthplace, on March 10, 1907, and he has chosen to remain here, spending his adult years amid the familiar scenes of his youth. Both of his parents were natives of Georgia, his father having been born in White County and reaching the age of eighty-two as of this writing, while his mother, the former Elizabeth Hudgins, was born in Jackson County. John W. Cleveland, the subject's father, has lived to a ripe old age deep in the convictions of his youth concerning the basic virtues in life and the various ways of practicing them, a Southerner of the old way of life who carries his beliefs in his own conduct. Ralph W. Cleveland grew up in Gainesville and in Hall County. He attended the public schools of city and county through high school years, completing that phase of his academic training with graduation from high school in Gainesville. Georgia Institute of Technology, in Atlanta, was his choice for higher education, and he attended that institution as a member of the Class of 1929.

Most places of business in the Gainesville area were very closely associated with agriculture at this time. Mr. Cleveland entered his first venture as a man of business in Gainesville, with the Pacelot Company of that city. He was in the cotton business. This association was reasonably successful and continued for a period of ten years. More independence in the executive department was a lure that, along with others, caused him to enter this field for himself in 1939. The R. W. Cleveland Cotton Company was successful in most of the ten years of its existence. The cotton market is a very sensitive operation, one that makes quick successes and quick failures, but it is not a diversified field; one either makes it or one does not, in the narrower limits of cotton brokerage. Planters, gin operators and storage men, buyers, all depend upon a market condition over which they have little control.

It was in 1949 that the subject decided to enter the feed and poultry business on a large scale. The broiler industry was growing by leaps and bounds at this time and had already re-vitalized much of Georgia's agriculture, but it was also growing almost daily. Well acquainted in the area and a shrewd man of business, well aware of the agricultural picture in Hall County, Mr. Cleveland entered this field in a double capacity: As an operator of poultry interests, and as the head of a large wholesale feed company. In both of these lines, he enlarged his operations constantly, always acting to meet the demands of an expanding market that went beyond the fondest hopes of those concerned. As Georgia's production of broilers increased several thousand percent and changed a nation's eating and buying habits, Mr. Cleveland fed more and more of them. The Gainesville Milling Corporation, of which he is president and general manager, is now one of the largest of the South's independent feed operations, supplying seven million broilers and one million hens. Strictly a wholesale operation, the company supplies many Georgia markets as well as those in surrounding states. Located at 435 East Highway, in Gainesville, it has been in continuous operation and expansion since 1949. Mr. Cleveland also owns hatcheries, feed stores, dressing plants, and large farm operations. In thirteen years he has developed one of the local giants in feed and poultry business, now Georgia's largest crop. The rise of the Georgia broiler industry has brought with it a huge new industry in the state's feed mills, built to supply the unprecedented demand for these feeds by the birds being processed here. Mr. Cleveland has never regretted his decision to enter this field, and his more than one hundred employees at Gainesville Milling Corporation share his enthusiasm.

His interests are widespread. Mr. Cleveland is a director of the Gainesville National Bank and of the Seaboard Gainesville Midland Railroad. He is vice president and director of the Gainesville-Hall County Industrial Corporation, a director and treasurer of the National Broiler Council, and a past president of the Georgia Feed Manufacturers Association. In these positions, the subject has achieved national and state-wide recognition within the industry. He is also a trustee of Brenau College. Mr. Cleveland served in the United States Air Force during World War II, entering the service in 1942. He is a member of the American Legion and of the Chattahoochee Country Club, serving the latter organization as a member of the Board of Governors. In politics, he favors the Democratic party. The subject is a trustee and deacon of the First Baptist Church, also treasurer of the Board and chairman of the Finance Committee.

Americus, Georgia, was the scene of his marriage to Mary Rice on February 23, 1947, the daughter of John and Katy (Huff) Rice, of Forsyth County and Cleveland, Georgia, respectively. She was born in Forsyth County on June 4, 1914. Mrs. Cleveland is a graduate of Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville with a degree of Bachelor of Science. She taught at Georgia Southwestern College, in Americus, and is now president of the Study Club and of the Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association. Memberships include the Chattahoochee Country Club, the Garden Club, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and the Daughters of the American Revolution. She is a member of the Baptist Church and president of the Missionary Society. Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland are the parents of one son: John Ralph, born January 20, 1949, in Atlanta, now attending Gainesville High School.

Tour Plans To Inspect Soviet Farm

MOSCOW (UPI)—A group of 49 Georgia farmers visiting the Soviet Union on the "people-to-people" goodwill program planned to leave today for Brasnodar and spend a day on a collective farm.

The group arrived in Moscow Friday and will stay in the Soviet Union until May 30, when it leaves for Poland.

The Georgians, representing 34 counties, took in a ballet at the Kremlin Palace of Congresses Saturday night and visited an economic exhibition Sunday.

Atlanta Journal farm editor Harold Joiner said the party of farmer-businessman was "very impressed with what we've seen so far. . . ."

"But we are anxious to get out and see the farms," he added.

"We want to tell the Russians about our life and to hear about theirs," Joiner said. "We'd like to do our part to increase understanding."

Cantrells Will Likely Hang.

Before the State Prison Commission in Atlanta Thursday, Cols. F. M. and Hammond Johnson, attorneys for Jim Cantrell, together with several interested parties appeared and asked the Commission to commute Jim Cantrell's sentence to life imprisonment. The grounds upon which this request was based are that he is ignorant and did not realize the gravity of the crime he planned for his brother, Bartow, to execute. Again, emphasis was put upon the fact that Mrs. Arthur Hawkins, jointly implicated with the boys in the crime, was given a life sentence in the penitentiary and it was not considered fair and just that her life should be spared and the two Cantrells be hung. Dr. T. R. Kendall, pastor of the First Methodist church, and Rev. I. M. Merlinjones, rector of Grace Episcopal church, also spoke in behalf of the commutation of sentence. The Prison Commission took the case under advisement.

Today before the Commission, Col. H. H. Dean, attorney for Bartow Cantrell, the younger of the two, will appear and ask that Bartow's sentence be commuted to life imprisonment. Gov. Slaton recently wrote Col. Dean saying that if he wished to make a plea, for Bartow he must do so at the May sitting of the Commission as no further delay would be granted.

Those who have been watching these cases before the Commission and the Governor are of the opinion that no commutation will be given and that both Jim and Bartow Cantrell will be executed on Friday, May 29, in Hall county jail.

Judge Jones has not yet re-sentenced Bartow Cantrell, but he will likely do so this week and fix the day of the execution for May 29.

Farmer—Smith.

Mr. Robert Smith and Miss Edna Farmer of Tadmore district were married last Sunday morning at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. Andrew Collins, Esq. V. H. West officiating.

Mr. Smith is an energetic young farmer of Tadmore and the bride is a beautiful girl who has a generous endowment of the feminine graces and will be a helpmate in the fullest sense of the term. In fact, the young couple have scores of friends in Tadmore who predict and hope for them a career filled with true happiness and genuine prosperity.

For the immediate present their home will be with Mr. B. A. Smith, father of the groom.

Aviation Day A Success.

Aviation day was a success. One of the largest crowds ever seen in Gainesville was here. They came from all the surrounding counties, some coming a distance of forty miles or more. They began arriving early in the morning and a regular stream of people kept coming in until noon. By the time Aviator Beech made his first flight at noon the public square and the streets leading therefrom were lined with people to say nothing of the thousands who were at the grounds where the machine ascended and descended. On account of the fact that the people could see the air man from any place in town the crowd was scattered and, therefore, was hard to estimate. At any rate the promoters of the big day were well satisfied with the crowd brought to Gainesville, and the merchants sold hundreds of dollars worth of goods. The soda founts and restaurants did the biggest business of all, being crowded from morning until late in the afternoon. The restaurants could hardly wait on those who wanted lunch shortly after the noon hour.

The flying machine was an interesting sight to a majority of those who were here as most of the people had never before seen one. Aviator Beech made his first flight at 12 o'clock. He circled over town and returned to the ground on Athens street without accident. At 3:30 o'clock he made his second ascent. He stayed in the air a little longer this time and circled over the square, his second flight being more satisfactory to the people than his first. However, in alighting at the starting point, on account of the people crowding around his machine he struck Mr. Hiram Grant and a little boy both of whom were right badly injured, Mr. Grant having his collar bone and one or two ribs broken, while the little boy had his ear cut and other abrasions given. Beech's machine was damaged somewhat, also, but the aviator himself was unhurt. Medical attention was given the injured parties and they will soon be all right, it is thought.

Three Fire Alarms.

Saturday afternoon the fire department was called to the home of Mr. W. A. Mitchell on Boulevard. Some trash near the house caught fire presumably from a spark from a chimney. No damage was done.

Saturday night about midnight the department was called to Mr. J. B. Mundy's on West Broad street. A smokehouse, woodshed and barn were burned entailing a loss estimated at $1,000 with no insurance. No one knows the origin of the fire.

Sunday night Mr. A. J. Mundy's tenant house at what is known as Huckleberry, on the Shallow Ford road, just outside the city limits was burned. Origin of fire unknown. Loss several hundred dollars.

To Corn Club Boys.

County Superintendent of Schools J. D. Underwood has received the following letter from Dr. Wm. Bradford of Cedartown, state boys corn club agent, addressed to the members of the boys corn clubs, which should prove not only interesting to them but profitable as well as to all farmers:

"You are busy with your crop and greatly interested in making it as good as you possibly can. In fact, you are so much interested that you are liable to forget to keep an accurate record of your expenses while making it, and I am writing you to remind you of the importance of keeping this record. It is a good habit, in all adventures of whatever kind, to keep a record of both income and outgo. Farmers, as a rule, are lacking in this habit and are consequently lacking in definite knowledge of whether they are making or losing money on their different enterprises. Few farmers can tell of what it costs them to make a pound of cotton or a bushel of corn or raise a hog or a cow.

If you acquire this very useful habit of keeping a record of what you do, of when you do it and what it costs you, you will have been well repaid for your corn club experience, even if you should not make a nubbin of corn.

The rules of the club require that the boys shall furnish, at the close of the season, an itemized bill of their expenses and it will be next to impossible for you to do so if you rely solely on your memory.

Select two good men now, or as soon as you can get them to promise to do so, who will supervise the gathering and measuring of your corn and the land upon which it grew. Get men who are not interested in the land or the crop or related to you, and be sure to have their certificate properly filled out and signed when the land and the crop have been measured.

Doing these things will help you and will insure confidence in your report and show your neighbors and friends that you are acquiring good business habits and that you play fair."

Hi. Vikki,

I just recieved your info today & I was Amazed, but I am not real good at searching for my roots. I really do appreciate all your help & yes I would like to have Copys of all your info on this.

Mary Cleveland raised my daddy his Mother died when he was born & mary took him home with her & tied a Cow in the back yard & got him fresh milk when he wanted it. she told my Daddy a lot of things no body else probably knew. she told him That Frank Cleveland's Daddy was a Hancock & that Lewis Cleveland's Daddy was a [redacted] Sanford & Reliegh & Hubert & mae's Daddy was a Prather she lived in a log house on prater's place when she raised my Daddy & he showed me the rocks that was the foundation of the log house one of the kids lived right beside it & has a garden right where it stood I believe it's Hubert & Ruby. My Daddy took me & showed me where she is buried at Shiloh Church in Toccoa next to her mother Louise. I Can't find out tho where John was buried it's not there! sure would like to know.
